
The 30-Day Hiring Process Reset

Fix hiring chaos. Restore confident decisions.

Most hiring problems aren't candidate problems — they're process failures.

When hiring feels slow, inconsistent, or stressful, the root cause is usually unclear roles, unstructured interviews, and weak decision-making frameworks. The 30-Day Hiring Process Reset fixes the system behind hiring decisions so teams can hire with confidence.

Who This Is For

This engagement is designed for growing teams that:

- Are hiring regularly but lack a clear, repeatable process
 - Experience conflicting interview feedback or decision paralysis
 - Rely too heavily on gut feel
 - Want better hiring outcomes without adding tools or headcount

What This Engagement Delivers

In 30 days, your team will have:

- Clear success criteria for one priority role
- Structured interviews with defined ownership
- Interview scorecards that replace opinions with evidence
- A decision framework your team can trust
- A documented hiring process you can reuse

Hiring stops feeling reactive and starts feeling intentional.

How It Works

Week 1 — Diagnose & Clarify

Identify where hiring breaks down and define what success looks like for the role.

Week 2 — Structure Interviews

Design a clear interview flow and consistent evaluation criteria.

Week 3 — Fix Decisions & Workflow

Clarify decision ownership, rules, and simplify the hiring workflow.

Week 4 — Document & Hand Off

Deliver a simple hiring playbook your team can run without ongoing support.

What This Is (and Isn't)

This is:

A focused, 30-day, fixed-scope engagement focused on hiring decisions and process clarity.

This is not:

Recruiting, sourcing, resume screening, interview scheduling, or long-term consulting.

Investment

$3,000 — fixed price, no ongoing commitment unless needed and discussed

Getting Started

The process begins with a short diagnostic conversation to assess fit and confirm next steps.

Clarity over chaos. Structure over guesswork.
